

We do not believe that your government could handle an even greater spill in the Fraser River Estuary and our Association supports the opposition to Jet Fuel tankers in the Fraser River. Trucking fuel in sensitive wetland areas is a recipe for disaster and the Slocan River community is suffering the consequences of such a practice. The one positive thing that can come from this jet fuel spill into Lemon Creek and the Slocan River is that your government has learned the consequences of such an event and that your government will halt the tankers and reckless project being considered for the Fraser River.

Yours truly
